Drakensang Online Hack Cheat Andermant Maker.14.Q: Auto populate a hidden field in the form based on what the user selects from a drop down menu I'm running a jQuery function to populate the hidden field in my form based on what the user selects from a drop down menu. I've tried a few variations with no success. Here's my code: `$('#mySelect').change(function () { if ($(this).val() == "1") { document.getElementById('hidden_example_name').value = "Some Value"; } else { document.getElementById('hidden_example_name').value = "Some Other Value"; } });` A: I think you are using .val() to get what the user selects. But you will only be able to get the first value he select (the first option) with it. So you have to loop through all the options in the dropdown and depending on the result, take the correct value. So here is a 648931e174
